The people of Fighting 4 Louth Hospital call upon you all to take your place in history on Saturday 2nd September at 1pm and join us in the NHS Uprising.

The History

In 1536, Louth saw the start of the Lincolnshire Uprising – this inspired and was closely followed by the Yorkshire Uprising which became The Pilgrimage of Grace. The people of Lincolnshire were described by Henry VIII as “rude commons of one of the most brute and beastly shires in the realm.”

At the core of the unrest was the dissolution of the monasteries and the sacking of the churches. Today, we are seeing the dissolution of the National Health Service and the sacking of our hospitals.

The Protest

Join us as we march through Louth Town Centre to campaign against the drastic reduction in our hospital services both locally and nationally.

Campaign against losing Louth Hospital as we know it.
